Turning Research and Knowledge into Practice

November 11-13, 2006
Williamsburg Marriott Hotel
50 Kingsmill Road
Williamsburg, Virginia

Purpose

Obesity is now recognized as a serious problem and has reached epidemic proportions. These patients, whether in hospital or community, present significant challenges to nurses providing their care.

This conference brings together nurses who are involved with or interested in the care of the morbidly obese patient and family. Its purpose is to provide educational sessions and opportunities for problem-solving, sharing of common concerns, and identification of research questions and issues of importance to the care of this population. The conference is also open to other health care professionals with an interest in the care of these patients and families.

Target Audience

The target audience is nurses interested in the care of the morbidly obese patient and family. Although the conference is designed for professional nurses, non-nurse professionals interested in this population are also welcome.

Objectives

At the completion of this conference you will be able to:

Discuss current issues and best practices with bariatric nursing colleagues in an informal setting.

Analyze basic nursing competencies in caring for the morbidly obese with reference in particular to airway issues.

Identify significant staffing issues for nurses in providing safe care to morbidly obese patients.

Identify characteristics of facilities that promote optimum safe care of morbidly obese patients.

Summarize the outcomes of the conference.

Synthesize appropriate research directions for nursing care of the morbidly obese.

Discuss elements of a nurse competency program in bariatric nursing.

Synthesize approaches to developing a national nursing agenda for optimum care of the morbidly obese.
